Katanga Capital Placed Under Siege by U.N.

Move Aimed At Swinging Province Into Congo Regime

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—U.N. troops put Elisabethville under a virtual state of siege and arrested various foreigners today in a move apparently aimed at swinging secessionist Katanga province into the Congo government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Armored cars patrolled the streets.

U.N. detachments seized several key points in President Moise Tshombe's capital, took over the airport to assure the safe arrival of reinforcements and launched a roundup of white officers, chiefly Belgian, in the Katanga army. Some minor clashes.

There were some minor clashes and a scattering of gunshots, but a U.N. representative said nobody was hit.

(In Leopoldville, a U.N. spokesman said the operation was intended to remove all 500 foreign officers from Katanga's army and added: "The operation is going ahead smoothly without opposition and with the full cooperation of the Katanga gendarmerie and police." He reiterated previous denials that the U.N. intended to disarm the entire Katanga army.)

The massive show of strength came only 48 hours after Adoula, whose Leopoldville regime is supported by the United Nations, proclaimed determination to rid this copper-rich province of all foreign civilian, financial and military interests. His chief target are Belgians, who developed Katanga's mineral, industrial and agricultural resources while the Congo was a Belgian colony and still have millions of dollars invested in its resources.

68 Europeans Arrested
Indian Brig. Singappa Raju, commander of the U.N. task force, reported the arrest before noon of 68 of the 512 Europeans serving the Katanga regime in various capacities. About 300 of the white men on the Katanga payroll are officers of the army—Belgian, French, British, Italian and South African.

Gail Russell Found Dead In Apartment

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Gail Russell, 36, who a year ago said "I'm an alcoholic" but declared she had put drinking behind her, died with an empty vodka bottle by her side.

The brunette beauty was found dead on the floor of her West Los Angeles apartment late Saturday night by two women neighbors.

There were other empty liquor bottles throughout her four-room, $130-a-month quarters.

Police said Miss Russell's death apparently was from natural causes. They said she had been hospitalized in recent year with a serious liver ailment.

An 18-year-old coed at Santa Monica High School, discovery by a Paramount talent scout, election by exhibitors and critics in 1947 as "Star of Tomorrow," stardom in pictures like "Lady in the Dark" and "Our Hearts were Young and Gay," four years' marriage to star Guy Madison—these were some of her life's highlights.

The low points were a series of drunken driving arrests in the 1950s. In 1957 she lost her driver's license when her new white convertible smashed through the front of a coffee shop and hurt a janitor.

The judge fined her $420 and put her on three years' probation. She vowed never to drink again.

Explaining a year ago how she had stopped drinking, Miss Russell said: "I'm an alcoholic. You just don't drink."

Madison said in divorcing her in 1954 that she refused to have servants in the home and discouraged visitors.

Divorcing actor John Wayne in 1953, Esperanza Wayne accused her husband of spending a night with Miss Russell after a studio party. Wayne heatedly denied it.

School Enrollment Gain Is Foreseen Here Opening Day

An enrollment of 3,682 students, 86 more than the number enrolled at the end of school last June, is expected at the opening of Salem Public Schools Sept. 6.

A breakdown of the estimated enrollment is as follows: kindergarten, 328; elementary, 1,799; junior high, 874; senior high, 681.

In spite of the increase in number of students, the total teaching staff of 160 is two fewer than last year's force, according to a report issued day by Paul E. Smith, superintendent of schools. Seventeen teachers new to Salem schools have been employed to replace those who have retired or resigned.

Supt. Smith will meet with teachers at 9 a.m. on Sept. 5 at the high school. He will introduce the new instructors and outline plans for the year.

At 1 p.m. on Sept. 5, all sophomores and pupils new to Senior High School will meet in the high school gymnasium for a general orientation. Also at 1 p.m., all 7th grades and pupils new to Junior High will meet in the junior high auditorium.

At these meetings, pupils will find the location of their home-rooms and classes, receive directions and other information which will help them off to a good start, Supt. Smith said.

First-Day Schedule
A full day of school is scheduled for Sept. 6. The schedule for that day is as follows:

Kindergarten—8:30 to 10:45 and 1 to 3:15.
Grades 1 and 2—8:30 to 11:45 and 1 to 3:15.

Grades 3 to 6—8:30 to 11:50 and 1 to 3:15.
Junior High—8:30 to 3:15.
Senior High—8:30 to 3:30.

Plate lunches (35 cents) will be served in the Junior and Senior

Public Session On Charter Is Tonight

The first of two meetings planned by the Salem Charter Commission to explain to the public provisions of the proposed city charter will be held at 7:30 tonight in the Memorial Building.

Lozier Caplan, chairman of the Charter Commission, will give a resume of the proposed charter, and other members of the group will explain certain sections and answer questions of citizens who attend the meeting.

The 15-member Charter Commission was elected by Salem voters last November to prepare a charter for possible adoption by the city. They completed work on the charter last week and will present it to the public for approval or rejection at the Nov. 7 general election.

Caplan emphasized that changes in the proposed charter still can be made before it is sent to the printers. The charter must be in the hands of the County Board of Elections by Sept. 27. No date has been set as yet for the second public meeting on the proposed charter.

Adoption Up to Voters

If adopted by the voters, the charter would change the form of city government here to conform with a "home rule" system allowed by state law since a constitutional amendment enacted in 1912.

This type of government, backers of the charter say, would give the city more authority over its particular affairs and at the same time relieve much of the city's dependency on state legislation in solving local problems.

The charter proposed for the city is known as the "Mayor-Council Plan." That is, all legislative powers of the city would be vested in an elective Council while the executive powers would be vested in an elected mayor.

The city already operates under a form of government which has an elected mayor and Council. However, under the proposed charter, the mayor would have increased powers. These additional powers would come chiefly from new authority for the mayor to appoint various officials and employees in the administration and an increase from two to four years in the mayor's terms.

3 Injured In City Traffic

Four Drivers Cited After Collisions

Three persons were injured in two of the four traffic accidents which occurred in the city over the weekend.

Devona M. Barr, 60, and Frank Robert Barr, Jr., 52, both of Akron, were treated at the Central Clinic for minor injuries received in a two-car collision on Rt. 14 (Benton Rd., just north of the W. State St. intersection, at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Devona Barr suffered a whip-lash injury to the neck and a back strain. Frank Barr also received a strained back.

Police said the car driven by Mr. Barr had stopped for a traffic light when it was struck from the rear by another car operated by Mary Ellen Wiles, 38, of Alliance. The Alliance woman was cited for failure to stop in an assured clear distance and fined $10 and costs by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Mike Heltman, 52, of 832 Spring St., suffered abrasions of the nose, face, scalp and ear when a truck in which he was a passenger went out of control and struck a pole on Newgar den Ave., just south of Liberty St., at 5:23 p.m. Sunday.

Police arrested the driver of the truck, James H. Dickey, Sr., 67, of MC 1, Georgetown Rd., for driving while intoxicated. Dickey was fined $150 and costs and given a three-day jail sentence by Mayor Cranmer.

Both drivers were cited in a two-car mishap which occurred at 12:40 p.m. Sunday on W. State St., just west of Sharp Ave.

Police said Barbara Bozichovich, 19, of Campbell, attempted to make a right turn into a private driveway without signaling and was struck by a car operated by William Frederick Slanker, 19, of Beechwood Rd., RD 1, Salem, who was trying to pass on the right side. Miss Bozichovich was cited for failure to signal a turn and Slanker for passing a vehicle on the right side. Each was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Cranmer.

Sandra Kay Alesi, 17, of 1389 Carole Drive, escaped injury when she drove into a parked car on E. Pershing St., just east of S. Lincoln Ave., at 2:10 p.m. on Saturday. Miss Alesi told police that she became confused when she saw a car coming toward her in the opposite lane of traffic and pulled too far to the right where she struck the rear of the parked car owned by Margaret Stewart of RD 1, Hanover-ton.

The victims told police they were away when the robbery took place. They said the thieves presently entered the apartments between 10 p.m. Saturday and 1:20 a.m. Sunday.

Brazil Congress Bickers Over Next In Power

Military In Control; Goulart Delays Return From Paris

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazilian vice president Joao (Jango) Goulart waited anxiously in Paris today while Congress bickered over whether to let the left-wing leader take over the government.

Amid the confusion created by the sudden resignation of President Janio Quadros, the military appeared in firm interim control in a crisis that brought the nation to the brink of civil strife.

The Foreign Office suspended negotiations with the Soviet Union for restoration of diplomatic relations after a 14-year break—negotiations that contributed to Quadros' downfall and which Goulart wholeheartedly supported.

Moscow Radio charged that the unpredictable Quadros was forced to quit because of the "crude intervention by the United States in Brazil's affairs." Robert Woodward, U.S. assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs termed the Soviet charge absurd and said: "Our relations with the Quadros administration have been very friendly and cooperative."

War Minister Gen. Odilio Denys, army strongman and a staunch anti-Communist, showed challenging doubts about allowing Goulart, 42, to assume the presidency he inherited with Quadros' resignation.

Goulart Sunday night reportedly sent word to Denys: "I am returning to Brazil to fulfill my duty. You fulfill yours." The message was conveyed through Brazil's ambassador to the United Nations, Francisco Sa. diago Dante, who talked by phone with the vice president in Paris.

Keeps In Seclusion
Goulart himself kept in seclusion but an aide said that the vice president "will insist on his constitutional right" to succeed Quadros and wants to get back to Brazil as quickly as possible. But a member of his party said Goulart probably would wait in Paris to confer with members of Congress expected to fly there to discuss the situation.

Goulart, much farther to the left politically than the unpredictable Quadros, is a bitter critic of American capitalism and a strong advocate of closer Brazilian trade and diplomatic ties with the Communist bloc.

The Labor party chief, who won re-election as vice president last year with Communist support, faces opposition from a faction of moderates in Congress and the traditionally anti-Communist military.

Denys, 69, with 48 years in active army service, has emerged as the key man in the maneuvering over whether Goulart should be sworn in as chief of state.

2 E. Liverpool Men Hurt In Road Mishap

Two East Liverpool men were injured in one of four traffic accidents which occurred on area highways over the weekend.

Bryon Surgeon, 20, and James Koenig, 21, were admitted to East Liverpool City Hospital with injuries received when the car in which they were riding overturned in a field on County Rd. 340, two miles east of Rt. 170 near the Pennsylvania state line, at 11:10 p.m. Sunday.

Surgeon, the driver, suffered lacerations of the scalp and contusions and abrasions of the right shin. Koenig received contusions of the chest, right hip and right side of the head. Both were taken to the hospital by a passing motorist.

According to the state highway patrol, Surgeon was driving west on County Rd. 340 when the car went out of control and tore out two fence posts and several feet of fencing on the farm of Cecil Lyons of RD 2, East Liverpool. The car was damaged extensively.

A sheep was killed when it ran onto the highway and was struck by a car on Rt. 7, a mile north of Rogers, at 9:20 p.m. Sunday.

The patrol said the animal was first hit by a northbound car driven by June E. Higgins, 36, of Negley, and then run over by other traffic in the southbound lane.

Moderate damage was done to the Negley woman's car. The sheep was owned by Kersey McCloskey of 43 Liberty St., East Palestine.

UAW Exerts Added Pressure Signs Pact With American Motors

DETROIT (AP)—Armed with a profit-sharing settlement at American Motors and with strike authorization, the United Auto Workers Union applied home-stretch pressure today on General Motors, Ford and Chrysler for new contracts.

Unless something gives by Thursday midnight, when current three-year contracts run out, UAW President Walter P. Reuther says there will be a strike against one of the Big Three. Workers have rolled up overwhelming majorities to back up demands with walkouts, if necessary.

Reuther said there still is time for agreement "if there is good will on both sides." He pointed out the AMC-UAW pact was put together between Tuesday and Saturday.

Reuther says the new American Motors agreement "ought to lay the basis for economic settlement" with other automakers, but if any of the Big Three knows a better way "to answer pressing human needs" he's willing to follow that route.

The Big Three have said they have no intention of following a profit sharing path. They insist production workers have shared in industry progress over the years through wage increases that have brought the average wage to $2.80 hourly and added fringe benefits worth 35 to 40 cents hourly. They have offered wage raising packages that the union has rejected.

UAW Vice President Norman Matthews raised a strike threat Sunday against Chrysler, a money-loser in this year's first half. He said he would ask the UAW's International Executive Board Tuesday for authority to call a Chrysler walkout at midnight Thursday if no agreement is reached by that time.

Directors of the union's GM and Ford departments previously had said they would do the same. A grant of strike authority, however does not necessarily mean that it will be used.

Under the new three-year American Motors agreement production workers get 10 per cent of profits, after the first 10 per cent is set aside for stockholders. Workers also will get a five per cent bonus in AMC stock, half pay for any hours fewer than 40 worked in a short workweek, high supplemental unemployment benefits and increased pensions.

Murder Count Filed Against Liverpool Man

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan today filed a second degree murder charge against Hamlet Brooks, 83, retired East Liverpool potter, in connection with the pistol slaying Saturday of his wife, Louise, 81.

The sheriff said the preliminary hearing will be held probably today in East Liverpool Municipal Court since the offense occurred in the Brooks residence in Liverpool Township.

The shooting occurred about 11:30 a.m. on Wood Alley off St. Clair Ave. Ext. just outside the city.

Sheriff VanFossan said Brooks told him the shooting was accidental although he admitted pointing the .22 caliber pistol at his wife and pulling the trigger twice.

He said he got the gun recently to keep birds away from his flock of pigeons.

Brooks said he and his wife had an argument over her failure to keep the house clean. He got the gun and was going outside, he related, when she called, "I dare you to shoot me."

He pointed the pistol at her and pulled the trigger. "I never intended to shoot her," he told the sheriff. Brooks explained he didn't know the pistol had a double action and thought he had to cock the hammer before firing.

The slug hit Mrs. Brooks in the chest as she sat on a sofa. Brooks called their daughter, Mrs. Nellie Parr who lives near—

Party Paper Says Parley Is Inevitable

Communist Police Turn Water Hose On West Berliners

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists today demanded a voice in any East-West talks on Germany and said the subject of such talks could only be the conclusion of a peace treaty.

Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Communist party, said in a front-page editorial: "It should be clear that negotiations about the German problems without the (East) German Democratic Republic are unthinkable." Says Talks Inevitable

The editorial said it should be clear now to everybody after the slamming down of the Iron Curtain through Berlin—that East-West talks are inevitable. Such talks would have to be on a peace treaty for both East and West Germany or, if the West should refuse that, a peace treaty with East Germany, the Red Organ asserted.

Neues Deutschland said that if a separate peace treaty is signed with East Germany—as Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised to do by the end of the year—all nations who want to use the land and air links between West Germany and West Berlin will have to make bilateral agreements on the subject with East Germany.

"Nobody should have any doubt, there will have to be bilateral talks and bilateral agreements on access to West Berlin," the paper said.

It added: "We are prepared to give any necessary guarantee that rightly can be expected from us against any violation of the free city status of West Berlin."

New Algerian Chief To Hike War Tempo

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—The new Algerian rebel leadership asserted today it will bolster military action against French rule in Algeria, but at the same time reaffirmed that a negotiated solution to the rebellion is still possible.

The statement followed Sunday's announcement of a shuffle in the rebel provisional government, shelling moderate Premier Ferhat Abbas, 62, and replacing him with Ben Youssef ben Khedda, 41. Ben Khedda, virtually unknown outside rebel circles, is farther to the left than Abbas and favors a tougher approach in the war against the French.

The shuffle took place at a meeting of the National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA), a sort of parliamentary body, in Tripoli, Libya.

A communique issued at rebel headquarters here today said: "The decisions of the CNRA dealt principally with the reinforcement of the action of the national liberation army and the mobilization of the Algerian masses."

The CNRA "reaffirmed that a solution is possible within the fundamental principles safeguarding the territorial integrity of the Algerian territory, including the Sahara."

Recent peace talks with the French broke down largely on French insistence that the oil-rich Sahara is not part of Algeria.

The rebel statement today "underlined the importance of the material, political and diplomatic support from the Socialist countries and the countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America."

Hoffa, Insurgent Leader Battle It Out With Words

CINCINNATI (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, pooh-poohing the possibility of any national trend to unseat him, flew in here Sunday confronted the leader of a rebelling faction—a man who says Hoffa is using the union to gain "personal wealth and power."

The Teamsters chief came face to face with James Luken, who has led four Cincinnati locals to bolt the Hoffa regime and declare intentions of joining the AFL-CIO.

The two never shook hands and sat on opposite sides of a hotel room as they answered questions and explained their viewpoints during a joint press conference.

Later, Hoffa addressed a crowd estimated at 1,200 at Cincinnati's Music Hall and stated:

"The reason you joined a union was unity—unity for strength, unity for bargaining effectively. Splintering this unity can only satisfy the bosses and lead to more anti-labor legislation."

Then he asked:

"Can all 1½ million members of our International be wrong? Or is there someone behind this man (Luken) who is urging you to destroy collective bargaining, (now) on a basis of solidarity in Cincinnati?"

While a brass band was playing in the Music Hall prior to Hoffa's arrival, Luken, president of the 2,200-member dairy drivers local, was on television. He told his audience that he and his associates had decided to revolt only after giving up all hope of reform within the Teamsters Union.

Speaking of Hoffa, Luken declared:

"We could not believe that any one man, through money, connivance and press-agent magic, could capture a national union and convert it to his own private instrument for personal wealth and power."

"We could not believe that the efforts of underworld characters to dominate large segments of the union could go unchecked."

Luken denied he led the 4,000-man Teamster revolt because of personal hostility toward Hoffa.

The Dairy Drivers, Soft Drink Drivers, Funeral Livery Drivers and Taxicab Drivers locals here voted 11 days ago to disaffiliate with the Teamsters.

A court test is pending on the Teamsters' constitution, and the decision—whether the local can take its assets when it disaffiliates or if they remain property of the International under trusteeship—may determine whether the rebellion succeeds.

In 1953-54, before Hoffa succeeded Dave Beck as Teamsters president, "We resisted efforts of known hoodlums and racketeers to come to this area and, in their words, 'take over,'" Luken told his TV audience.

Later, he said, he and his local complained to Hoffa about the efforts of a racketeer to muscle in. Luken said Hoffa told the local's officials they had "better wise up" if they wanted to "get ahead in the Teamsters Union—they had better start playing ball and getting along with these people."

Earlier, at the news conference, Luken made plain his enmity for Hoffa. "The Teamsters Union is now controlled by one man," Luken said. "Frankly, I don't approve of that one man and the small group around him, his ideas about unionism and the way he practices it."

Hoffa snapped back that Luken "has deceived the members, he has deceived the government and is now deceiving himself."

He added that the Teamsters will try to convince the bolting locals that they have been misled.

In his Music Hall speech, he pleaded, "Remain in this International Union, the one and only. In doing so you'll be able to overcome employer resistance and scrap it. I hope and pray every person here works for unity."

Columbiana School Buses Are Ready For First Day

COLUMBIANA — Bus routes worked out by Raymond Cole, elementary principal, are all set to go into operation on the opening day of school, Sept. 6.

Buses will start their runs at 8:25 a.m. (Fast time.)

Cole pointed out two reminders for Dixon pupils: Children residing in the area bounded on the north by E. Park Ave., on the south by the Pennsylvania R.R., on the east by the Y&S R.R., and on the west by S. Main St. must walk to the high school building and then ride buses to Dixon School.

Children living between Union St. and W. Park Ave. must walk to either Union St. or W. Park to board the Dixon bus.

The bus drivers are: Bus One, William Houlette; Bus 2, Willard Zellers; Bus 3, Richard Yoder; Bus 4, Neil Smith; Bus 5, Eddie Botsko.

School officials request that children ride the bus to school the first day, this reduces the confusion at dismissal time when children don't know which bus they should take because they didn't learn the number of their bus in the morning.

Parents are welcome on the first day of school, but they can help by meeting the bus and their children at the school, rather than driving the children to school.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN'S Club will meet this evening at 8:30 in the home economics room of the High School.

Prepare For Winter Now By Making Needed Repairs

Fix it now, man. Why postpone the inevitable, leaving the responsibility of coping with bursting pipe or fire to the lady of the house?

There is no economy in delay as winter has a way of catching up with procrastinating home owners.

Just try to get a plumber to bail you out when things are boiling up all over.

Furnace need a check-up? If you don't have your furnace serviced regularly, it probably needs a vacuuming and to be checked for clogged flues. Proper heat distribution can lower the fuel bill. If your home seemed dry last winter, ask the furnace expert about a humidifier. Perhaps a small inexpensive gizmo can be attached to your burner to lessen the drying effects of the hot air.

Extension cords? If you have been postponing ridding yourself of these fire hazards, do it now, especially if you have many small appliances hitched to them.

COLD BED ROOMS? Insulation needn't be a messy job, and it's far better than spending winter nights in an ice box. An estimate on blowing the insulation in from outside, a neat way to do it, may prove lower than you imagine, and pay for itself in what you'll save on fuel.

It's a good idea to check whether cesspool or septic tank needs cleaning, especially if you've installed some new appliances—dishwasher, washing machine. If you are planning to have a septic tank installed, it should cost less now than when the ground is cold and hard.

Repair a defective water pump at the first opportunity, and if your plumber suggests replacing rust-laden pipes, don't try to convince yourself the problem will dissolve. If a clogged pipe is narrowing your water supply, the condition will only get worse as time goes on.

MEN ARE AWAY FROM THE home a good deal of the time. Women live with the problems in a home. It's up to them to keep the man aware that these snags to pleasant living do exist.

And if you wait until the dead of winter to have the furnace checked, the family may end up in sleeping bags.

Some men are expert at the "temporary fix." Papers are stuffed in cracks at the bottom of doors, windows are nailed shut in lieu of repairing the catch, rickety porch steps are propped up.

The lady of the house should find out what needs repair, and heckle her husband into hiring someone to do the job, if he can't do it himself. She may have been a good sport up until now, but it's hard to bring a sense of humor into play when your teeth are chattering. If she controls the budget, she has a good chance to tighten the purse strings in other directions, and do first repairs first. Check these points with your man, then plan the fix, with or without him:

CHIMNEY SWEEP? How long has it been since the chimney was cleaned. A cause of many fires is a dirt-laden chimney, especially if there is crumbled mortar in chimney joints. If the fireplace is used for cooking, grease makes it even more vulnerable, and imperative to have a chimney man size up its present condition. Cracks in the house foundation? Early repair will be less costly than having a weakened foundation on your hands.

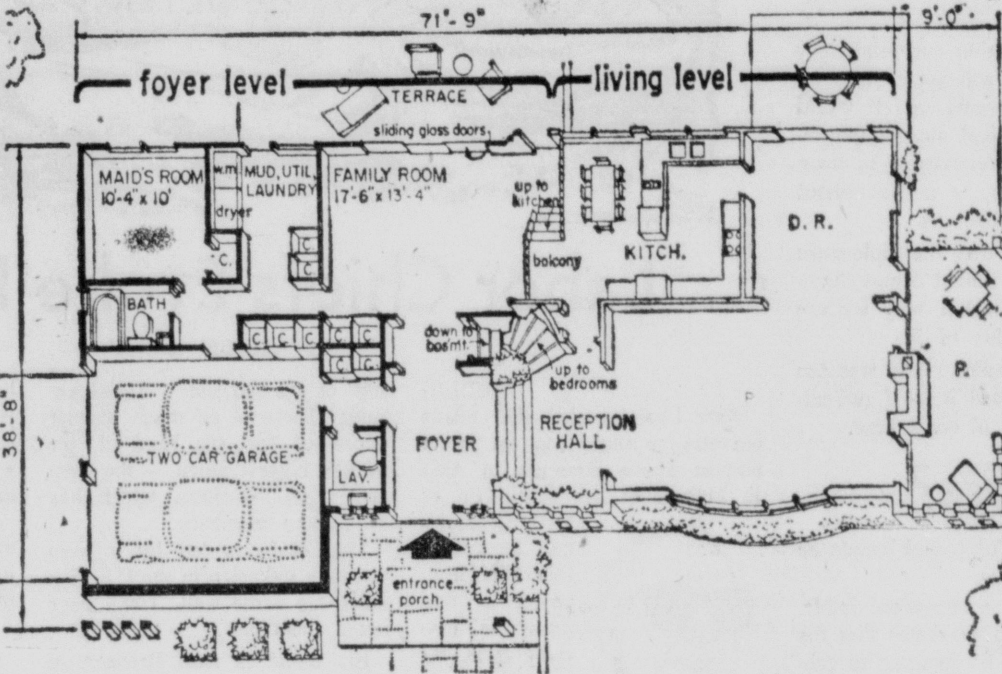

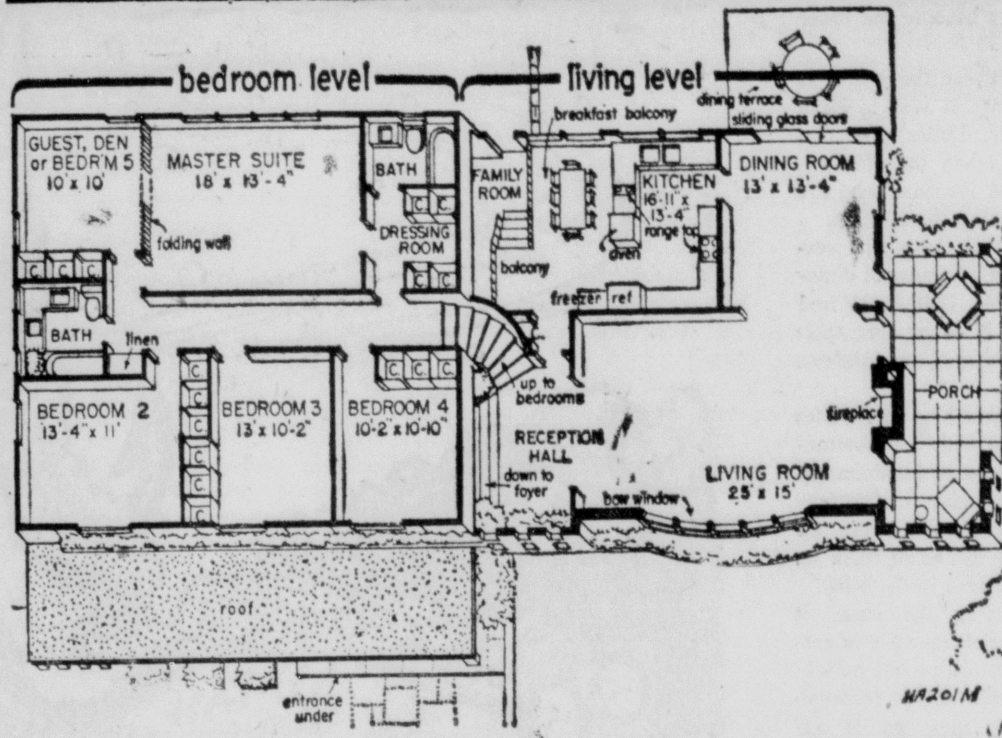

Drafty windows and doors? A little putty at the window panes or some weather stripping where needed will keep out wintery blasts. A glass pane may be replaced more easily if the window sash is removed. Old putty should be removed and the area sanded and oiled so that the new putty will not crack and dry out in a hurry. Weatherstripping is available for easy application to the bottom of doors that gap.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: I intend to put up wood paneling over furring strips attached to a plaster wall. I understand there are several ways the panels can be attached to the furring strips. Can you tell me something about this?

ANSWER: Yes, there are a number of ways to attach the wood panels to the furring strips. The simplest is merely to nail up the wood panels with finishing nails along the edges of the panels. The disadvantage of this method is that the heads of the nails are visible. But this can be overcome by punching the nail heads slightly below the surface of the wood and filling the tiny holes with wood filler. Another method is to combine wood glue with nails; that is, apply glue to the furring strips and to the part of the panels that will touch the furring strips, and then nail the panels in place. This makes a stronger installation than with nails alone, but creates the same problem of the nail heads. There are two ways to eliminate this problem. One is to attach the wood panels with special metal clips, the other is to attach them with contact cement. The metal-clip system works only with special, prefinished panels. With contact cement, you apply the adhesive to the furring strips and the backs of the panels and press them together. The bond is instantaneous, with no pressure needed. But extreme care is necessary in positioning the panels, since the contact cement allows no leeway for re-jiggering.

Bored With Floors You Have Now? Get a Different Kind

If you are bored with the floors you have now, get another kind.

That decorating theory is advanced by one of New York's top interior designers, Jay Dorf, who has put new floors in all four rooms of his apartment.

"Floors represent a larger area than any other surface in the room," he points out, "yet we tend merely to tolerate our floors or cover it with carpet."

"Floors should be lovely enough to enhance our furnishings, and make them look more beautiful, an improvement you will notice when ordinary floors are waxed. Floor beauty can be achieved with patina or with pattern."

What happens when you move? "You take your floors with you as you would linoleum," says Dorf. "People who own rare floors pull them up when they move. Well, why not other floors we like. I intend to do it."

If you can't afford new floors, you can get authentic antique effects by scraping, distressing and proper use of stain, he says.

Dorf's floors are treasures. A living room furnished in elegant French furnishings, from Regence to Louis XVI has an old French mitered herringbone flooring of straight grain and quartered oak. The kitchen floor is vinyl laid in mortar by hand to resemble brick.

The wide oak antique floor boards in a sitting room are from a country home in Milford, Conn. Ditto the 22-foot country chestnut beams at the ceiling. The room was designed to be an authentic New England country room. A "modern" primitive oil painting of a clipper ship hangs over the fireplace, a Handsome French marble—Rouge royale.) Baseboards? Light colored ones are impossible to keep clean. Why not get new effects. (He marbled his with brown and white paint which also complements the window sills.)

Floors badly scarred? If you can't afford new editions, paint for a New England effect or paint the floor a solid color such as gray, adding a red striped border about 12 inches from the wall.

He achieves Jekyll-Hyde effects with windows. Picture windows in his apartment conform to others in the building from the outside. Inside the subterfuge is accomplished with a false wall through which a drapery runs.

But Dorf doesn't stop with false walls, laying new floors, and transforming city apartment rooms into country havens. He doesn't accept little home features because "they've always been that way," he says. "Everyone should think for himself in respect to his home decor, asking himself how he can improve his lot." Here are some of his decorating tricks:

Window sills? Wood can be easily chipped. Why not marble or formica. (Dorf's sills are

All-Season Comfort Vital In New Attic Living Space

Keep year 'round comfort in mind if you plan to convert an attic into living space.

Many families have discovered to their dismay that the attractive, new attic rooms they had high hopes for are unbearably hot in summer and uncomfortably chilly in winter.

The two keys to all-season attic comfort are proper insulation and air conditioning.

Mineral wool insulation can be installed easily and inexpensively by the home owner with an assist from family members.

For the utmost in heating and cooling comfort and economy, batts or blankets of mineral wool labeled R-19 should be installed in the ceiling. R-11 batts or blankets are recommended for walls.

These applications of mineral wool will keep much of the outdoor heat out of the house in the summertime and will help retain much of the house heat during the winter. It also will help cut costs for both heating and cooling.

As for air conditioning, you may choose either a window unit, or a through-the-wall model if you prefer to leave window areas free. Some of today's window air conditioners, equipped with sliding adapters to fit windows of various sizes, can be installed quickly by the home owner. Through-the-wall unit slide into a metal sleeve installed permanently in the wall.

Today's electric room air conditioners are more compact, more efficient, and quieter than older models. They cool, dehumidify, and circulate the air, and also filter out airborne dust and pollen. In cool weather they can be used to exhaust stale air and smoke, and some models heat as well as cool.

Both window and through-the-wall air conditioners are designed to complement room decor, fitting flush or nearly flush with interior wall or window, and finished in tones that harmonize with color schemes.

To learn what size unit is right for your attic room, describe the room to your local appliance dealer. He will judge in Btu's the cooling capacity needed according to the size of the room, insulation, and number and location of windows.

Brinkmanship Is Here

As secretary of state, the late John Foster Dulles advocated the pursuance of two basic policies: military preparedness for "massive retaliation" and diplomatic preparedness for "brinkmanship."

At the time he presided over United States foreign policy, few people in this country questioned the wisdom of the first. It was based upon the ability of our superior nuclear equipment to devastate the home base of the Communist masters at the first evidence of overt aggression against us. It was implemented by letting the Communist masters know that was our intention.

But brinkmanship — the diplomatic device of pushing or pursuing the enemy to the brink of war before offering him a way out of the dilemma — did not go over as well. Indeed, when Mr. Dulles' advocacy of brinkmanship was first brought to public light under that title, it was pounced upon by a variety of forces, led by his political opposition — the Democrats — who now have the grim responsibility for conducting foreign affairs.

Although John Foster Dulles had a reputation for being an unbending conservative in dealing with the Russians, the critics of brinkmanship attacked it, paradoxically, on the ground that it was too radical and therefore too dangerous.

TIMES have changed.

The Kennedy administration had abandoned at least sole reliance on massive retaliation on the grounds that it is too inflexible in preparing militarily for the local, "brush-fire" wars that the Communists are fond of waging or inviting. The retaliatory policy — best evidenced in the ballistic missile submarines that are patrolling the world's oceans in increasing numbers — is retained only as a final-resort reserve if the "brush-fire" wars flare out of control.

And brinkmanship has become the order of the diplomatic day.

The only difference between the way it is pursued now and the way it was to have been pursued under Mr. Dulles' direction is that he would have taken the offensive in its use. Now, it is the Russians who are using it, and they are doing the pushing.

In other words, many of those who several years ago scored the advocacy of diplomatic brinkmanship by Mr. Dulles now find themselves engaged in it — against their wishes, to be sure, but engaged nevertheless.

PERHAPS that was something Mr. Dulles understood about dealing with the Communists. Perhaps he advocated brinkmanship simply because he knew there was no way to avoid it, and he preferred being on the pushing side, facing the brink, than on the pushed side, with his back to the brink.

To avoid oversimplifying the issue, it must be admitted that brinkmanship is easier for the Russians to pursue offensively because they know we will not be responsible for committing the first act of aggression.

We hope that, considering our retaliatory power, the Communists will not commit an act of aggression that would set off World War III, but we have had enough experience with the basic aggressiveness in their character that we cannot be as sure about them as they can be about us.

But the fact remains that the diplomatic situation in which the United States finds itself is one of brinkmanship, only we are on the less enviable side of it.

Maybe John Foster Dulles really was too radical when he advocated it — if radicalism means being ahead of one's time.

What Will Reuther Share?

United Auto Workers President Reuther's statement that he will not exclude the Chrysler Corp. from his demand for a profit-sharing contract brings up a couple of interesting questions.

Does it mean the union has decided to accept some responsibility for a deficit?

This is what it would indicate. If a union wants to share in the profits a company makes, it must be assumed that the union also wants to accept a share of the responsibility when the company does not show a profit. That is what investors do when they accept reduced dividends, or sometimes get no dividends at all.

But Mr. Reuther already has answered that question in the negative. He charges that Chrysler's current deficit is the result of incompetent management and declares his union does not intend to "subsidize" incompetence of corporate managers through "substandard wages."

By substandard wages, in this instance, Mr. Reuther presumably means a contract providing some method of paying employees other than sharing profits.

This brings up the second question: Is Mr. Reuther prepared now to guarantee that the auto companies will not be required to subsidize incompetent workers?

While organized labor is quick to take credit for protecting workers' rights of seniority, it never is willing to admit that a byproduct of the same process is the perpetuation on the payroll of some workers who are incompetent, or at least unwilling to apply their competence in full measure to their assigned tasks.

They may not be many among the legions of union members, but they do exist.

The point of all this is that a profit-sharing wage contract, like a four-day week with five days' pay, is economically feasible only when workers are willing to fulfill their proper share of the responsibility for a company's economic health.

Mr. Reuther's demands usually take no cognizance of that fact at all. He only dwells on the rewards he expects.

No Justice In Diplomacy

It is one of the quirks of modern diplomatic life that the United States was left holding the bag when the United Nations opened debate on the French-Tunisian dispute.

It was a debate which the United States did not want, and the debate stemmed from a fight in which the United States had no part.

But the United States got involved because it felt compelled to withhold condemnation of an ally whose friendship is valued in the NATO alliance, which in turn is vital to the United States military position.

When the debate opened up in the United Nations, however, France was nowhere to be seen. Her delegates boycotted the session because they did not like the goings-on.

And there sat the United States' delegation, made the center of the argument by the Russians, who were anxious to divert attention from the goings-on in East Germany. An audience of Afro-Asian nations which had called the debate out of sympathy for Tunisia was ready-made for the Soviet charges.

France's unwillingness to be present for the speeches aggravated the audience more, but the net result was to heap more abuse on the United States.

When Russian delegates staged their famous walkouts from United Nations sessions, they were the ones who suffered. When France staged its walkout this week, the United States bore the brunt of the pain.

It does seem unfair, but that apparently is the price to be paid for world leadership.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

British nudist club reported $12 stolen from clothes in undressing room. Police said they were helpless because they could not search anybody. Clearly a case for Sherlock Holmes.

Holmes: Watson, we must look for someone who wears a guilty look—and little else.

Watson: But skin coloration reflecting embarrassment or nervousness is not easily detectable in nudist colony. Have we no cases in our file which might point to thief?

Holmes: We have the celebrated Case of the Summer Colony Woman Shoplifter the easily operated in a supermarket because she looked no different than shoppers in current street attire. And there's the Case of the Man who Looted Nudist Lockers without Detection due to the fact he wore Bermuda shorts which had shrunk so much he seemed to be a club member rather than an intruder.

Watson: Wasn't there the Case of the Turkish Bath Pickpocket of Shrewsbury-Wickford?

Holmes: Yes, but they are both behind bars. The problem here, Watson, is that $12 has shrunk to such small proportions that it is hardly visible to the naked eye.

Watson: The only thing we have in common with nudists is the naked eye and it would be of no use to us, I fear. My dear Holmes, what could a nudist camp member want with $12?

Holmes: Just the BARE necessities, Watson.

Watson: Well, let us pursue every strip of evidence. In the meantime, I propose we review the famous Case of the Fan Dancer and the Strip-Tease Club Fan Hijacker.

Holmes: Marvelous idea, Watson, marvelous!

SHORT STORY of the Met Opera and the absent Rudolph Bing situation:

Bing

Sing

No.

In view of Lyndon Johnson's success in the East Berlin crisis, you can imagine what would have happened if we sent over not only a Texan but sent him with cow pony and larrikin.

Jimmy Piensall probably booted that diamond-involving baseball fan for "kicks."

Critics of Rudolf Bing say they should get "more bang out of Bing for a buck."

Tailgating, or following too close to car ahead, is a chief cause of auto accidents, statistics show. More and more drivers seem to think that on a crowded highway they can merely yell "Fore" and go through.

U.S. goods licensed for shipping to Soviet world jumped 800 per cent in past few weeks. It's pretty cockeyed to hear a man threaten to bury us, and then send him the necessary appliances.

Do you remember these other old-time automobiles—the Scripps-Booth, Stanley Steamer, Hupmobile, Franklin, Lozier and Moon?

Yes, and also the Lozier, Dart, Franklin (wooden frame), Essex, White Steamer and Baker Electric.

President Quadros of Brazil pinned on chest of Cuban "Che" Guevara one of highest medals ever conferred by that country. But as far as we have read no American delegate at the same convention offering millions to country got a five-cent cigar.

Not Biting

Labor Chiefs Evoke Disgust

By VICTOR RIESEL

Now I've traveled the whole barbed-wire route, from the Soviet outpost above Erzerum in Asia to Lubeck at the Baltic tip of East Germany and back into East Berlin, past the Red tanks and machine guns. By mule, by jeep, by swift motor launch, by slower one-motored aircraft and on foot with refugees themselves slogging through mud of the Hungarian soil.

Along every inch of the sharp-pronged Red wire fence I wish I had had with me the "neutrals" of the two-thirds of what is left of the world we still call free.

Fervently I wished I had with me those leaders of African nations who have told me they would have to turn to the Soviets for aid if we did not help them as fully as they requested.

But most often I wished I had with me the leaders of the world's largest unions. Something has happened to some of them — almost as eerie as sudden pitch darkness at noon.

Bitterly, this point was made by a West Berliner as we walked unmolested by the "Vopo" — the Communist people's police — through East Berlin's Marx-Engels Platz and surrounding deadened streets still laden with war rubble.

WHEN WE RETURNED to the city's Allied sector, my friend disgustedly threw a copy of Jimmy Hoffa's Teamster magazine in front of me. It was the August 1961 edition and it boasted of being "the largest labor publication in the world."

Curiously, the Teamster magazine had not a word on Berlin. From all you could gather from the editors, Berlin's heartaches, East Berlin's new draft labor code and cruel speed-ups did not exist. Why?

But the anger here is not reserved solely for the belligerent chief of the largest American union. There is as much disgust expressed for the head of the world's biggest union — the German Metal Workers, which has 1 1/2 million members.

This outfit is led by a man virtually unknown in the U.S. But mark his name well. You'll hear much about him.

His name is Otto Brenner, a man who believes in mass militancy when it comes to denouncing employers—some of whom are Americans investing in Germany to help maintain its prosperity.

In private and public talks he mouths strange forms of neutralism. He is not enamored of the U.S. or of capitalism, for he is a militant Socialist.

Today he is quiet because he is backing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and doesn't want to embarrass the pro-U.S. Willy Brandt, Mr. Adenauer's challenger.

Do not underestimate the impact of Otto Brenner merely because his name is known only to a handful of us in the United States.

REMEMBER he controls almost two million workers in the German auto, metal fabricating, steel and allied industries.

Remember that merely three years ago the late Patrice Lumumba was a postal clerk, Kasavubu was an unknown, and most folk didn't know or care that the Brandenburg Gate doesn't have hinges.

History has a way of hurdling the "unknown" into prominence and power. And as I talked in a trade union headquarters in the heart of West Berlin there was anger, too, over the tactics of another leader of one of the world's largest unions—Socialist Frank Cousins, general secretary of the Transport and General Workers Union of Great Britain. It has 1.3 million members.

Mr. Cousins only recently boasted that he would swing the powerful British Labor party to his philosophy—a quaint one indeed, which won't exactly send up N.S. Khrushchev's blood pressure.

Mr. Cousins is England's No. 1 "unilateralist."

This simply means that he believes that Great Britain should junk its atomic, hydrogen and neutron bomb weapons without waiting for other nations to disarm.

No need waiting for the Soviets or anyone else, says Frank Cousins, about whom you'll be hearing frequently before too long.

JUST DISARM, says this militant Socialist. The Russians aren't going to attack us with atomic weapons, says this powerful unionist, they merely will try to give us a going over in economic competition. So let's get rid of our weapons.

Fortunately, he will receive quite a drubbing at the upcoming British Trades Union Congress national convention early next month.

This distaste for our armament policies apparently now is seeping into the Scandinavian countries.

While over in East Berlin I encountered considerable gloating of Sovzone officials over the statement of another old-line orthodox labor leader, fellow by name of Alfred Petersen. He too is leader of a "biggest" union, the Danish General Workers (and Transport) Union. It can, if it would, dominate Danish labor, for it has 330,000 members out of a central Federation of some 700,000 in what would be the equivalent of the AFL-CIO. It's called the L.O.

Petersen authorized the Neues Deutschland, the Communist newspaper across the sector line, to say that he favored a solution of the "German problem" by recognizing two German states. This, it seems to me, means keeping the barbed wire up.

And while we're at this report, it should be noted that there is considerable irritation here over the handful of important American labor leaders who sign "SANE" nuclear statements at a moment like this.

To the people of Berlin, it shows weakness in the face of the Russians. Our friends here are asking what's happening to some of the world's labor leaders—don't they want to remain free?

Let them come and see the barbed wire for themselves.

A COMMITTEE TO PLAN for the sesquicentennial observance of the Yearly Meeting is made up of Rev. H. B. Winn and Mrs. Milford Landwert of Salem; Prof. Amos Henry and Dr. Byron Osborne of Canton; Miss Emily Moore of Damascus; Ted Brantingham of Winona and Rev. Herbert Bandy of Mt. Pleasant.

The first Yearly Meeting was organized with Horton Howard, clerk, and William Wilson, his assistant. Enoch Harris was the first treasurer. The opening minute read thus:

"At Ohio Yearly Meeting for the Site of Ohio, Indiana territory and the adjacent parts of Pennsylvania and Virginia, first opened at Short Creek, the fourteenth of the Eighth Month, 1813."

Ohio Friends and others in the new organization had been affiliated with Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends up until 1812.

FOR YEARS IT WAS the custom of Friends for the men and women of the Meeting to hold their business sessions separately and accordingly with one section for the men and one for the women. If a matter came up in the women's business session that merited the advice of the men it was written out and sent by a messenger to the men or vice versa.

However, it's different now. Friends sit together as families

TO WILL HE OR WON'T HE? Why should he? The sample was ample.

Dear Anti: It's unfair of your father to attach a "rider" to his promise after you have fulfilled your part of the agreement.

A woman is what she is by the time she's 23. A trip to Europe, so, will not damage her good name.

Confidentially

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

World Brotherhood

By DAVID LAWRENCE

U. S. Neglects Instrument for Spread of Ideals

One of the most effective instruments for the spread of America's ideals and its concepts of human brotherhood throughout the world is not being utilized by the United States government. There is plenty of emphasis on "cultural exchange" in the arts, music and drama, and lots of talk about the need for technical and educational help to be furnished by the new peace corps project. But there is a tendency to overlook a powerful institution in the world today — the churches and religious organizations.

David Lawrence

The contact between the American government and the Roman Catholic headquarters in the Vatican is tenuous. There is little contact with the high-ranking ministers of the Church of England. There is little contact with the high churchmen of the Asian religions.

The other day, the correspondent in Rome of the London Daily Telegraph wrote in his paper that an attempt may be made soon to initiate diplomatic relations between the United States and the Vatican.

This probably is a mistaken report and the speculation may have arisen from the fact that Cardinal Coggiani, the newly appointed papal secretary of state, is well acquainted in Washington, where he served 25 years — from 1933 to 1958 — as the apostolic delegate to the Catholic clergy in America.

FROM 1839 TO 1956, Presidents Roosevelt and Truman maintained an unofficial representative—Myron C. Taylor—at the Vatican. These relationships were especially valuable during the war and postwar periods and were thereafter lost in a controversy that arose when President Truman recommended establishment of formal diplomatic relations with the Vatican, and Congress refused to approve.

Since that time, the contact between the American government and the Vatican has been confined to a few visits by dignitaries on both sides. Yet the Roman Catholic Church has tremendous influence in every country in Latin America — each of which is predominantly Catholic in its religious affiliation — as well as in France, Austria, Germany, Spain and Italy.

The Vatican could do more to help the Alliance for Progress to succeed in Latin America than any other single ally.

WHAT IS NEEDED is a special organization in the United States government devoted entirely to contacts with all national church and religious groups, both inside and outside the United States.

A special representative should be sent to Britain to maintain regular contacts with the clergy in the Church of England and with other Protestant church groups.

Another envoy should be sent to Rome as a contact with the Roman Catholic Church.

Other representatives of the United States government should go on similar missions to the centers of the Middle Eastern and Asian religions.

What could these American representatives do? Nearly every one of the big churches has a vast personnel of missionaries who serve all around the globe—Africa, Asia, South America. They are in close contact with the peoples of those continents. They not only can transmit information but they can gather it.

SOMETIMES the church organizations get a misconception of American purposes and policies, and their representatives repeat such misconceptions, not necessarily in the pulpits but in their informal relationships with local leaders of thought.

It is vital to the whole communication policy of the United States that a means of briefing the principal church leaders of the world should be set up by the United States government—just as it spends a lot of time and money in contacting the press and movie people of various countries, as well as other organizations included in the objectives of our "cultural exchange" programs.

A few days ago President Kennedy and other high officials of the government in Washington thought it important enough to give several hours of their time privately to brief 700 newspaper and radio editors from all parts of the United States on the background of our foreign policy problems.

It is just as important regularly to give basic explanations, for instance, to certain people in the Anglican Church in England and the Roman Catholic Church in Rome and to some of the leaders of the various Hebrew theological seminaries in different parts of the world, as well as to the leading personalities in the religious groups of Asia, where the Moslem and other religions penetrate the hearts and minds of tens of millions of human beings for they ought to be informed of American purposes in the world today.

The United States should neglect no means of communication, formal or informal, which seeks earnestly and sincerely "to win friends and influence people."

Early Friends Meeting

By PEARL WALKER

Salem pioneers were among the nine representatives from this area who attended the first session of Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends Aug. 14, 1813, at Short Creek, Jefferson County.

They were John Street William Heald, James Bolton, Jesse Holloway, Abraham Warrington, Isaiah Harris, Stephen McBride, Abel Townsend and Gideon Hughes.

The 149th session of the Yearly Meeting closed Sunday at Damascus with hundreds in attendance from Ohio, Michigan, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina, Rhode Island, and Ontario, Canada.

A COMMITTEE TO PLAN for the sesquicentennial observance of the Yearly Meeting is made up of Rev. H. B. Winn and Mrs. Milford Landwert of Salem; Prof. Amos Henry and Dr. Byron Osborne of Canton; Miss Emily Moore of Damascus; Ted Brantingham of Winona and Rev. Herbert Bandy of Mt. Pleasant.

The first Yearly Meeting was organized with Horton Howard, clerk, and William Wilson, his assistant. Enoch Harris was the first treasurer. The opening minute read thus:

"At Ohio Yearly Meeting for the Site of Ohio, Indiana territory and the adjacent parts of Pennsylvania and Virginia, first opened at Short Creek, the fourteenth of the Eighth Month, 1813."

Ohio Friends and others in the new organization had been affiliated with Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends up until 1812.

FOR YEARS IT WAS the custom of Friends for the men and women of the Meeting to hold their business sessions separately and accordingly with one section for the men and one for the women. If a matter came up in the women's business session that merited the advice of the men it was written out and sent by a messenger to the men or vice versa.

However, it's different now. Friends sit together as families for both their business sessions and worship services.

Concerning the 1813 meeting John Heald wrote: "The attendance was around 2,000, although some Friends say that there was nearly 3,000. A solemnity attended all the sittings."

Current problems which claimed the attention of the early Friends were the liquor traffic, slavery, the treatment of the Indians and capital punishment.

EIGHT HUNDRED FAMILIES of Friends had moved into Ohio by the year 1800, according to historical records. A group of Friends from Salem, N.J., about the year 1803 carried the name of Salem into Ohio and by 1805 the Salem Monthly Meeting of Friends was established.

Concord was the first duly authorized meeting for worship in Ohio, the name having been suggested by Hannah Trimble, a traveling minister. Short Creek was the second meeting in the state.

Annual sessions were held at Mt. Pleasant until the Yearly Meeting House was built at Damascus early in this century. Then they were held every other year at Mt. Pleasant. Since 1929 they have been held at Damascus continuously.

The Mt. Pleasant Meeting House, a historical landmark, is now the property of the State.

Bees Sting Lisbon Man Unconscious

LISBON — Water Superintendent Ernest (Packy) Reisinger, stung unconscious by a pack of yellow jackets Friday afternoon, expects to be released today from Salem City Hospital.

He stepped on the bees nest about 1:30 p.m. while cutting weeds near the sewage treatment plant on Elkton Road. Several of the yellow jackets stung him on the arm. He kept working but collapsed 30 minutes later.

Reisinger told his wife he doesn't remember anything until "waking up" in the hospital Friday evening. Lisbon's volunteer fire department ambulance rushed him to the hospital with a sheriff's cruiser leading the way.

According to the patrol, Robert E. Reynolds, 29, of East Liverpool, slowed for traffic when he was struck from behind by Shoklen's vehicle.

Cars driven by two New Middletown men collided on Rt. 90, just north of the New Middletown village limits, at 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

The patrol said David Ohlin, 19, of RD 1, New Middletown, slowed down while approaching the village limits and was struck from the rear by a car operated by William Black, 33, of Box 61, New Middletown.

Black was cited for failure to stop in an assured clear distance.

Ranieri Mazzilli, the moderate speaker of the Chamber of Deputies who is serving as acting president, declared in the capital of Brasilia Sunday night the crisis is being overcome and predicted "within a brief period all will be normal."

Mazzilli said all was calm in South America's sprawling giant of 67 million people. But the government imposed censorship on newspapers and outgoing dispatches and seized two radio stations for broadcasts favorable to Goulart.

School

High Schools. Ice cream, plain and flavored milk may be purchased by those who bring their lunches from home.

All principals will be in their respective buildings today through Thursday, from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. with the exception of Wednesday afternoon.

Register Tomorrow

All pupils new to Salem schools who have not yet enrolled or made out a daily schedule in grades 7-12 should report to their respective grade buildings tomorrow between 9 a.m. and noon and 1 and 4 p.m. Pupils enrolled in other schools last year are asked to take with them to the registration their last year's records as well as their health record.

Parents of all children are reminded of the School Board's policy that no child is permitted to enter the public schools until he has given written evidence that he has had the following inoculations: diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus injection, vaccination and at least two anti-polio inoculations.

School insurance at the rate of $2 per pupil will be available the first week of school. Forms will be sent home with children on Sept. 6. Supt. Smith says these completed forms should be returned with the $2 fee to the child's classroom teacher the next day.

Each child will be insured upon the receipt of the $2 fee and the form by his classroom teacher. Enrollment in the school insurance policy will end Sept. 15. Pupils who plan to participate in the intramural activities are strongly urged by the superintendent to have this protection. Such athletic insurance protection taken after Sept. 17 will be at a higher rate, he explained.

Supt. Smith reports that new textbooks have been furnished in the social studies in grades 1-4. The new texts were adopted in grades 5 and 6 in the social studies area but financial limitations have postponed their purchase until after the first of the year, Supt. Smith said.

New Courses

Courses new to the secondary curriculum this year include French I in the 9th grade and World History for college bound pupils in the 9th grade. Classes in French, German and Spanish started last year in the 6th grade will be continued in the 7th.

Certain sections of pupils at the 8th and 10th grade levels will be exposed to experimental materials produced for advanced placement groups in arithmetic, algebra and biology.

Plans have also been made to strengthen the program of physical education for both boys and girls in the elementary schools with emphasis on physical fitness and a broader program of intramural activities.

Policy On Homework

A statement of policy on homework will be issued to teachers. Though only suggestive, the statement proposes a variety of activities to be considered as homework as well as suggestion to pupils on the amount of time to be spent on these beyond-class time activities.

The statement includes suggestions as to the responsibilities of pupils, teachers and parents.

The developmental program in reading successfully conducted in the Senior High last year by Miss Thelma Thomas, will be continued and extended into the Junior High. In addition, Miss Thomas will work with selected children in each elementary school. These activities will include additional reading, experimentation, and study or research on problems of special interest to each child involved.

Plans are also being made to continue the out-of-school-time instruction in languages, art, science, speech and dramatics, and a reading seminar for interested college-bound seniors. This advanced reading course will be taught by an instructor from Mount Union College.

These courses are further attempts of the school program to individualize instruction and capitalize on pupil interest and self motivation, Supt. Smith said.

Tracks Clared At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Service was restored about noon Sunday on the Pennsylvania railroad following the derailment of 38 cars and 5 diesel engines at the tracks in the Royal China Pottery Co. property.

This was a record in clean-up work. Two cars are still against the pottery building and will remain there until the roof can be jacked up to support the walls.

There is approximately $25,000 damage to the pottery and about a half a million dollar damage to the railroad.

Volunteer firemen stood by from Saturday afternoon until Sunday morning because the cars were loaded with a flammable roofing compound.

Glenn Liberty, fire chief, was stricken ill about 5 a.m. Sunday and is confined to his home. Frank Fredrick received a chip-bone in his foot while walking on the tracks.

E. Palestine Men Injured In Crash

Two East Palestine men were injured in a two-car crash on Rt. 165, two-tenths of a mile north of the East Palestine city limits, at 1:55 p.m. Sunday.

Injured were William "Pete" Johnson, 35, of Box 177, East Palestine, and James E. Conner, 17, of RD 1.

Johnson is in fairly good condition at Salem City Hospital with a lacerated lip, contusions of the forehead and a possible back injury. Conner suffered lacerations of the chin, contusions of the right arm and abrasions of the left knee. He was released after treatment.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Johnson, traveling south on Rt. 165, lost control of his car, went left of center and collided with Conner's northbound vehicle.

Reds Regain 3 1/2-Game Lead After Dumping Dodgers

LA Threat Foiled On 6-5, 8-3 Wins

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's league-leading Reds have their 3 1/2-game bulge back today thanks to some stout relief pitching, timely pinch hitting and sound managing.

All three factors stood out like the Empire State Building Sunday as the Reds topped second-place Los Angeles twice 6-5 and 8-3 to foil thoroughly the Dodgers' bid to take over first place.

Bill Henry, Jim Brosnan and Jim O'Toole hurled hitless ball in a combined 2-13 innings of perfect relief in the first game as the Reds surged back from a 5-1 deficit with three runs in the seventh and two in the eighth innings. Henry and Brosnan came back to pitch scoreless relief in the second game after the Dodgers had knocked out starter Ken Johnson.

A double by inch hitter Wally Post drove in the winning run in the eighth inning of the opener, after the Reds had tied the score on an error and a triple by Leo Cardenas. This followed a three-run homer by Gene Freese off Stan Williams in the seventh inning to narrow the Dodgers' lead 5-4.

Pinch Hitters Produce

Pinch hitters came through for the Reds in the second game, too, as manager Hutchinson continued to make the right moves. Frank Robinson, who didn't start, batted for Jerry Lynch in the seventh and slammed a run-scoring triple. He scored a moment later when pinch-hitter Dick Gernert doubled.

St. Louis shut out San Francisco 6-0 dropping the third-place Giants 6 1/2 games off the pace. Milwaukee split with Philadelphia, winning the first game 11-10 in 12 innings and suffering a 3-0 shutout at the hands of Art Mahaffey in the second. Pittsburgh and Chicago also divided a pair. The Pirates won the first game 7-3 and the Cubs took the second 6-5.

Jackson Blanks Giants

Larry Jackson blanked the Giants with three hits for his eighth straight victory. It also was the Cards' seventh straight and 12th in a row at home. Ken Boyer

Tigers Gain Half Game On 'C-Boys' Slugging

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's fans were wondering today why all the fuss over Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle.

They contend they have a slugging pair just as devastating as the New York Yankees' M and M boys.

"We call 'em the C and C boys," said a happy Tiger follower. "That's Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito."

There's no question that Cash and Colavito have been just as essential to the Tigers as Maris and Mantle have been to the Yankees. The pair collaborated Sunday to lead the Tigers to a 7-4, 10-1 sweep of a doubleheader with Washington, moving the Tigers to within two games of the American League-leading Yankees.

Detroit Gains 1/2 Game

Detroit gained half a game on the Yankees who nipped Kansas City 8-7 for Whitey Ford's 22nd triumph. Maris and Mantle went homerless and hitless. Colavito smashed four home runs, three in the second game, and batted in seven runs. Cash got three hits, including a double and triple to boost his league-leading average to .365.

Chicago's White Sox strengthened their hold on fourth place, defeating Cleveland twice 10-6 and 9-3. Baltimore's third-place Orioles blanked Minnesota 3-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Milt Pappas, and Los Angeles downed Boston 8-3.

Berra, Howard Homer

Yogi Berra and Elston Howard supplied the home run punch for the Yankees. Berra's came with two on and Ford needed all those runs. The left-hander lasted just five innings and needed relief help from Roland Sheldon and Luis Arroyo. The A's scored three runs in the ninth and had the tying run on second base before Arroyo fanned Norm Siebern to end the game.

The White Sox used two big innings, one in each game to tomahawk the Indians twice. Floyd Robinson capped a six-run sixth in the first game with a bases-clearing triple. Al Smith and Roy Sievers homered in the nightcap in which the Sox had a four-run seventh.

Pappas not only pitched a two-

Hebert Wins Sudden-Death Golf Playoff

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jay Hebert, admitting he "started whistling too soon," won the $50,000 American Golf Classic Sunday by defeating Gary Player on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff.

Hebert, the Louisianan playing out of Miami, Fla., did it the hard way in gaining first prize of $9,000. He held a five-stroke lead over Player with nine holes left, blew it and then sank a 20-foot putt on the 18th hole to force a playoff.

Two holes later, he scored a birdie four on the 500-yard par 5 No. 2 hole to defeat Player, who took second prize of $4,600 to boost his earnings this year to over $60,000, tops among the pros.

"I was whistling when we teed off on the 10th," said Hebert, "but when I double bogied the 11th, I knew I had started whistling too soon."

Player began to apply the pressure and by the time they reached the 625-yard par 5 16th, Hebert was only two strokes ahead. Player birdied the hole and took the lead as Hebert ran into another double bogey.

Both parred the 17th and on the 18th Player missed a 35-footer by inches. Hebert went up to his ball and dropped a 20-footer to bring on the playoff.

Two holes later, Hebert, winner of the 1960 PGA championship over this same 7,165-yard Firestone course, clinched the victory. Both Player and Hebert were astonished at the behavior of the gallery.

"I played badly the first nine because I was hurt," said Player. "When I missed a five-foot putt on the third hole, the spectators cheered. Then I missed a four-footer on the fourth and some of the people laughed. I was heartbroken."

"I'm glad to have people pulling for me," Hebert said, "but we never want to see anything like that."

Hebert and Player turned the classic into a two-man tournament. Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., finished third despite a record 65 Saturday. He had a 38-36-74 in the final round for a 280 par total.

Hebert, shooting 35-38-73, and Player with 39-33-72, had two-under par 278s.

Chisox Pound Indians Deeper Into 5th Place

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Nieman got the 1,000th hit of his major league career Sunday, but there was little else for the Cleveland Indians to cheer about. They dropped a doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox, 10-6 and 9-3.

The twin kill gave the Sox a sweep of the four-game series and put them four games up on the Indians in the battle for fourth place in the American League.

It also meant the Indians lost the season series to Chicago, 12-6, dropping eight of the nine games played here.

Nieman, a right-handed hitter, started in left field in place of southpaw swinger Tito Francona against left-hander Billy Pierce in Sunday's opener. His 1,000th hit, a double to left center in the first inning, scored Jim Piersall, who had doubled.

Sox Get 6 in Sixth

The Sox came back with two runs in their first, then hammered starter Jim Grant and Frank Funk for six in the sixth to nail the victory.

Nellie Fox and Jim Landis singled to start the winning rally. Roy Sievers doubled one run home and after Minnie Minoso was purposely walked, Al Smith singled in two runs, routing Grant. Funk retired Luis Aparicio but an intentional walk to Sherm Lollar filled the bases and Floyd Robinson cleared them with a triple.

Grant hit his first home run of the year and Willie Kirkland drove in three of the Indians' runs with his 23rd homer and a triple.

The loss was Grant's eighth in 20 decisions. Winner was Turk Lown (7-5), who relieved Pierce in the sixth inning.

Smith, Sievers Homer

Home runs by Smith and Sievers were the big blows in the second game. Smith hit his 23rd in the fifth inning and Sievers' 24th with a man on in the sixth broke a 2-2 tie.

Both homers were off starter-losers Barry Latman (10-4). The victory went to Cal McLish (9-12), who was relieved by Juan Pizarro in the seventh.

Chicago scored four runs off reliever Dick Stigman in the seventh on two doubles, three walks and two singles.

Cleveland scored two in the fourth on Vic Power's RBI triple and Nellie Fox's tumble. The Indians got a run in the ninth on a double by Ken Aspromonte and singles by Nieman and Kirkland.

BUDD IS BACK

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Budd, 6-foot-6 forward, will be back for his second season with the New York Knickerbockers. The former Wake Forest star, a resident of Woodbury, N. J., missed the Knicks' final 15 games last season due to a severe virus. He was the team's No. 2 draft choice in 1960. His .432 field goal percentage was second on the team to Dick Garmaker's .445.

Herron Transfer Cops 1st Place In City 'AA' Softball

Herron Transfer whipped Step-anic's 8-3 to grab the City Class
AA Softball League championship
Sunday after a three-way tie caused a playoff to determine a league champ.

The three-way tie for first place developed as Old Dutch rolled over Stepanic's 8-2 Saturday night at Kelley Park, giving Herron's, Stepanic's and Old
Dutch identical 13-7 season records.

In Saturday's game W. Herman gave up just seven scattered hits while his teammates collected 13 from loser Stonemetz.

Gerry Weizencker was three-for-four at the plate for Old Dutch, and Benny Roelen had two hits in four trips to the plate for the losers.

Stepanic's jumped to a first inning 2-0 lead with hits by Roelen and Myers but weren't able to score again. The winners tied the score with two runs in the fourth, moved ahead with one in the sixth and added six insurance runs in the seventh.

Stepanic's averaged their Saturday setback as they edged Old Dutch, 8-6 in the first of two games Sunday.

Roelen was credited with the win and Henry Miller absorbed the loss.

Jack Roesti connected for two hits for the losers while McNelly was two-for-three and Jack Myers slammed two doubles for Stepanic's.

The winners scored in the first,
third, fourth and fifth innings and Old Dutch pushed across its runs in the first and third innings.

In the final game, Herron Tran-surs, while holding Stepanic's to five hits, one a four-bagger by Dick Andric, and three runs to win the regular season championship.

In addition to Andric's homer,
Stonemetz and Roelen of Stepanic-ic's both connected for triples.
Barnes smashed a round-tripper for Herron's.

Play Continues Tonight At Kelley Park

Double XX Wins Two In Invitational Tourney

In opening action of the Salem Invitational Softball Tourney at Kelley Park Sunday, Cleveland
Double XX Bar won two games as they blanked Minerva, 14-0 and downed Campbell Hillcrest Tavern, 9-3.

In other tourney games Hillcrest
Tavern defeated Unionport, 2-1, and the Alliance Amvets beat New Brighton S.O.L., 5-1.

Bob Payne allowed only two hits as the Double XX Bar blanked Minerva, 14-0. Jim Sprague hurled for the losers.

Steve and Joe Rist were the big men at the plate for the winners as they both smashed home-ers, while John Woodward and Jim Sprague connected for the only two Minerva hits.

In the Hillcrest Tavern game
Kirby Laughlin and Hank Rodriquez connected for doubles to spark a four-run sixth inning and give the Double XX Bar its second win of the day.

The winners scored in every inning except the first and third while the losers scored once in the second and third and added their final tally in the seventh.

Art Bishop was the winning pitcher as the Alliance Amvets handed New Brighton S.O.L. a 5-1 setback. Ralph Voskuhl was given the defeat.

The Amvets jumped to a 2-1 lead at the end of the first inning and were never headed, adding runs in the second and sixth.

Don Moulin smacked a double in the second to give him a one-for-two at the plate.

Scott Hill tripled in the first inning to drive home Frank Fyler and give Unionport its only run of the game as it bowed to Hillcrest
Tavern, 2-1.

John Brunovich and Joe Macej-ko led off the third inning with back-to-back doubles and scored on John Mihalenko's single.

Steve Vargo did the pitching for the winners and Bill McGrew tossed for Unionport.

Action resumes tonight at 9 p.
m. as Rod's Tavern battles Lincoln Machine.

Colts Paste Redskins 41-7 In Exhibition

By IKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Joe Perry, the all-time workhorse of the National Football League, may prove to be the most valuable piece of property acquired by the dethroned Baltimore Colts in a trading program calculated to return them to the top of the heap.

The league's most productive runner—7,246 yards gained in a record 1451 carries—broke a 7-7 tie with a 1-yard plunge that started the Colts on their way to a 41-7 pasting of the Washington Redskins in an exhibition Saturday night.

Used infrequently last year by the San Francisco 49ers when he picked up only 95 yards in 36 attempts, Perry, 33, was a stand-out against the Redskins along with two other new Colts—quarterback Lamar McLean and former 49er Dee Mackey.

The Western Conference champion Green Bay Packers remained at the head of the class with a 24-14 victory over Chicago that brought their record to 3-0. New York whipped Dallas 28-10, San Francisco edged Minnesota 14-10 and Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 24-14 in other games.

The Redskins lone score against the Colts came after Units tossed a 50-yard TD pass to Lenny Moore on the first play from scrimmage. Don Bossler then barreled a yard for the Washington score before Perry took over.

Jim Taylor's second two-yard touchdown plunge in the fourth quarter brought the Packers from behind against the Bears (1-2), and a six-yard scoring aerial from Bart Starr to Paul Hornung put them out of reach. The Bears had built a 14-10 lead on Roger LeClerc's 29-yard ramble with an interception and a 45-yard aerial from Ed Brown to Johnny Morris.

Charley Conerly started the Giants (2-0) off against the Cowboys (1-2) in the first period with a 37-yard scoring pass to Joe Morrison and New York scored once in every period with Alex Webster, Jim Podoley and Phil King picking up TDs on the ground. Dallas' only touchdown came on Don McIlhenny's four-yard burst.

Abe Woodson's 97-yard kickoff return with 13 seconds to go in the first half gave the 49ers (1-2) a 7-3 edge against the Vikings (0-3). C. R. Roberts ran 15 yards in the third period for San Francisco's winning TD before Minnesota finally reached paydirt for the first time in two games on George Shaw's 12-yard strike to A. D. Williams.

Bobby Layne's 33-yard touchdown toss to Preston Carpenter pulled the Steelers (2-1) out front against the Cardinals (0-2), then Charles Scales scored the clincher in the third period on a four-yard run. The Cards finally unveiled quarterback Sam Etcheverry, who has been sidelined with a sore shoulder. He completed the three passes he attempted.

BACK YARD GOLF
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Four couples with backyards decided to build their own golf course. It has five holes, is 100 yards long and has spotlights for night play. The owners say it cost very little to build—and so far no one has broken par which is 15.

FORCED TO FLEE WITHOUT THEIR BABY ...NOW SHE'S HOME

When Mr. and Mrs. Varga fled Hungary for their lives, they had to leave their daughter, Exeter Ilona, with relatives. For four years, the brutal Rade regime refused the child an exit visa. But continuous beseeching by dedicated agencies finally obtained the child's release—the first since the 1956 revolution.

Exeter's present happiness is a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Catholic, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs.

The work goes on, day in and day out...and it must continue. These religion-sponsored endeavors often provide the only hope for the free world's destitute. The next time you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember that your contribution will make it possible for other lives to be free from fear and terror.

Lisbon Quarteback Out With Broken Arm

Lisbon High School football fans received a sudden jolt Saturday when the Blue Devils' starting quarterback Larry McPherson, received a fractured left arm in a scrimmage game with United Local at War Memorial Stadium.

McPherson, who tossed 12 touchdown passes for Lisbon as a sophomore last year, will be out six to eight weeks, it was reported. He may be able to return to the lineup in the last three or four games, the report said.

NFL Games May Get TV Blackout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of National Football League fans will lose their chance to follow their favorites on television unless Congress acts to modify an antitrust ruling, Commissioner Pete Rozelle testified today.

Moreover, Rozelle said, television income will be sharply cut. Rozelle's testimony was prepared for the House antitrust subcommittee in support of a bill that would allow the league, and other professional sports organizations like it, to contract with broadcasters for TV rights to league games.

Such a contract was ruled illegal in July by the U.S. District court in Philadelphia, on the basis of an earlier antitrust decision.

"Thus, the National Football League, alone among existing sports leagues, is singled out for prohibition on joint television contracts," Rozelle told the subcommittee.

Unless the NFL is allowed to negotiate such a contract, Rozelle said, "the immediate result will be television programming for 1962 and all successive football seasons will deprive many member clubs... of all access to television facilities and television income.... Only those fans in the large metropolitan centers and favored by their geographical locations, such as New York, Los Angeles and Chicago, will be assured of seeing the games of their home team on television."

"I don't think I have to tell this committee what the response of fans in Green Bay, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Dallas, St. Louis, Detroit and even such cities as San Francisco and Philadelphia will be when they are informed that they will no longer be able to follow the road games of their home teams on television," he said.

Repairs Completed For Re-Opening Sept. 6

School Buildings Ready

Painting, repairs and installation of new equipment have been completed at Salem public schools in preparation for resumption of classes Sept. 6.

In addition to painting of some classrooms and office space, workers sanded and refinished most of the gymnasiums at the schools, Supt. Paul Smith reports.

Some of the major alterations occurred at the Junior High School.

A cafeteria space with tables and chairs for 50 students was provided and a third floor study hall partitioned to create new classrooms. The existing cafeteria also was refurbished.

New doors were installed at the N. Lincoln Ave. entrances and the walks in front of the building repaired. In addition, modernized lighting was installed in two rooms.

Repairs and alterations at other schools follow:

Senior High
N. Lincoln Ave. entrance way landscaped and shrubbery planted there. Approach road from Lincoln Ave. oiled and improved.
Electric calculator added to the business practices equipment and a cloth cover obtained for the gym floor.

Fourth Street
New classroom created for an additional sixth grade and new desks installed. New panic bars placed on all fire escape exit doors.

Reilly
Roof repaired and new fixtures installed in the first floor wash-room.

McKinley
Plaster repaired.

Buckeye
Pathway to Jennings Ave. and baseball field improved.

Prospect
Roof repaired and spouting replaced. Baseball field improved and outside lights installed on building.

Reilly Athletic Field
Seating in stadium repaired and new planks added. West edge of field graded and seeded and ventilation in dressing room improved.

WHAT A SPECTACLE — Sporting her own eyeglasses, this biddie is being protected against her animal instincts. Unless prevented, chickens may peck other injured birds to death. Red lenses on these glasses hide color of blood, stopping cannibalism.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Insect Stings—Some Minor, Some Lethal

Stinging insects cause more disability and a larger total number of deaths in the United States than do venomous snakes. On this account, a recent study made in New Jersey's rural Hunterdon County merits the attention of every conscientious parent whose children are apt to be stung while at play.

Now there are at least two principal reactions to the stings of flying insects. The simpler is merely the result of the injection of the venom that causes pain, swelling and redness of varying intensity. Always, too, this reaction is accompanied by a certain amount of fright and shock to the youngster. Usually the situation can be controlled by reassurance and the application of ice or cold compresses.

A more serious reaction is of an allergic nature. Then, in addition to the effects of the venom at the site of the sting, the victim may become seriously ill with a rapid pulse rate, difficulty in breathing, a persistent asthmatic type of cough, and stiffness of the nose. Such an attack may further lead to fainting, convulsions and even death.

In the series of 95 cases that were of sufficient severity to be brought to the attention of the staff of the Hunterdon Medical Center, yellow jackets accounted for almost two-thirds, paper wasps for a third and honeybees, hornets and bumblebees for the remainder.

Here are some of the observations made by the Hunterdon group that may help you prevent these accidents to your children: Swatting the flying insect increases the chances of being attacked. The child should be instructed to stand still when the insect puts in its appearance.

Black, brown and red worsted and flannel clothing seem to attract stinging bees. Apparently White, blue and yellow apparel afford some protection.

Odors, such as body sweat and perfume, attract yellow jackets, paper wasps, hornets, bumblebees and honeybees. Seemingly, freshly laundered clothes are not to their liking.

The barb of the honeybee enters the skin and should be scraped off with a sharp object. Grasping it with fingernails or forceps will not cause its removal.

Skin tests for sensitization merit consideration for the child or allergic parents and/or for the child or adult who has suffered an allergic type of reaction to an insect sting.

In the presence of a markedly positive reaction, a series of injections (like those given for hay fever) may lessen the sensitivity to a point where danger no longer exists.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

One of the odd things about women who carry umbrellas on rainy days is their feminine chivalry. It is noblesse oblige with them never to wing children or another woman. Only men get the point.

Twenty women with their umbrellas wide open could crowd into a telephone booth and emerge unscathed and unscratched.

But let one lone solitary man come warily down the avenue and eight out of ten women with umbrellas will manage to jab him in the face, neck, ears or ribs—even if he gets down on his hands and knees and tries desperately to scuttle by on all fours.

It is his doom. It is his destiny. There is only one way for a fellow to escape women carrying umbrellas on rainy days.

AUTHORIZES STRIKE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of Local 45, United Auto Workers at the Fisher Body plant of General Motors Corp. voted 759-19 Sunday to authorize a strike when contracts expire at midnight Thursday with the Big Three companies of the automobile industry. Eleven other UAW locals in this area previously voted to sanction a strike.

Women With Umbrellas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are some problems in life a man just can't do much about. He simply must put up with them.

High on the list is how to cope with women carrying umbrellas on rainy days.

A pretty woman peering around the rim of a summer parasol in a rose garden is one of the loveliest sights on earth.

Hand that same gal a bumper-shoot on a rainy day in town, however, and she becomes a rampant traffic menace to male life, limb and property down any street she ambles.

You can chart her progress by the stricken cries of men passers-by humbly pleading:

"Please, ma'am, may I have my eyeball back?"

To each of them the lady sternly replies:

"Well, what's it doing on my umbrella in the first place?"

And she pauses to inspect her umbrella to be sure it is undamaged. That's an odd thing about women on rainy days. When they bump into a man and impale him on their umbrella, they automatically assume he is a masochist trying to strike up an acquaintance with them the hard way.

They don't worry about his wounds. They feel he got what he deserves. All they fret about is whether the umbrella is all right.

No woman—at least none I have ever seen—ever feels it necessary to apologize for stabbing a hole in a man's forehead with her umbrella. Her reasoning:

1. "What if I was on the wrong side of the sidewalk? He should have seen me coming."

2. "What do I care if he doesn't have better sense than to ram his silly face into my umbrella? After all, he isn't my husband."

3. "Anyway, what difference does it make? He's only a man, and one more hole in his head won't hurt his looks much."

After more than 40 years of studying the tactics of women umbrella carriers on rainy days, I find they can be grouped into several distinct classes:

The kind that won't close their umbrellas until after they board a crowded bus.

The kind that insists on opening their umbrella again before getting off the bus, thus giving everybody within a 15-foot range a free cold shower.

The kind of woman who, if she fails to gore a passing man, hurries around the block so she can have a second try at him.

One of the odd things about women who carry umbrellas on rainy days is their feminine chivalry. It is noblesse oblige with them never to wing children or another woman. Only men get the point.

Twenty women with their umbrellas wide open could crowd into a telephone booth and emerge unscathed and unscratched.

But let one lone solitary man come warily down the avenue and eight out of ten women with umbrellas will manage to jab him in the face, neck, ears or ribs—even if he gets down on his hands and knees and tries desperately to scuttle by on all fours.

It is his doom. It is his destiny. There is only one way for a fellow to escape women carrying umbrellas on rainy days.

Stay home, and don't answer the doorbell. If you do, you're bound to find a strange woman standing there holding a wet umbrella.

Salem City Hospital Candid Observations

(Article Twenty-Six of a Series on Hospital Information)

The Egg Unscrambled

Some weeks ago one of our articles was entitled "Unscrambling a Scrambled Egg." It dealt with a revision of our financial structure which eliminates the scrambling or confusion in financial reporting.

Mr. Foster McGaw, chairman of the board of the American Hospital Supply Corporation, Evanston, Illinois, found this to be "an attention getting caption" which he included in a very nice promotional letter that he wrote about our articles. His letter was sent out to their mailing list of 24,000 hospital people across the nation.

This article is concerned with an actual example of our new system of financial reporting. It is our actual report for July 1961. The report clearly demonstrates our purpose: which is to establish a relationship between cost and income in each hospital division. By continuous evaluation and adjustment we shall be able to bring the two together.

Preface—We gain in some months and lose in others. Taking into account these ups and downs, our ultimate objective is to break even for the year. July is normally a "down month." Our planned loss in July was $4,000, our actual loss was $7,871. For the year through July our projection was a gain of $24,000; it actually was $36,000—we are somewhat ahead of projection at this point.

July, 1961	Income	Expense	Result
Bed, Board, Room	$46,574	$ 54,649	$8,075—loss
Operating Room	$ 5,715	$ 5,385	$ 330—gain
Delivery Room	$ 2,400	$ 3,292	$ 892—loss
Nursery	$ 3,568	$ 4,221	$ 653—loss
Emergency Room	$ 2,231	$ 1,851	$ 380—gain
Anesthesia	$ 5,310	$ 5,486	$ 176—loss
Laboratory	$ 9,904	$ 9,379	$ 525—gain
X-Ray	$ 9,141	$ 9,277	$ 136—loss
Pharmacy	$10,018	$ 9,192	$ 826—gain
Totals	$94,861	$102,732	$7,871—loss

According to our projections, we should have had an average daily census in July of 79 patients (excluding newborn), we actually had 76. This accounts for a somewhat lower income than expected which resulted in a greater loss than expected. However, for the year to date we are hitting close to projected gains and losses so that we should hit the breakeven point at the year end.

Every month we consider changes and adjustments to improve our operation. The following changes are to be made in August.

1. We shall reduce the charge for routine laboratory work done on all inpatients from $8.50 to $6.50. This work includes — a complete blood count, urinalysis, and serology. It is done routinely as a check on the general health and as a precautionary measure advisable on all patients as decided by the medical staff. We can make this reduction because of extra income made in the laboratory in previous months this year. By this change laboratory income will be reduced $10,500 per year.
2. The obstetrical service has been off 30% for two months. We plan to reduce the staff and the supply costs to this lower level of patient volume in obstetrics before any consideration is given to increasing the rates.

Final note: Bad Debts and Charity in July amounted to $3,132.

STUDENT PILOTS UNHURT

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Two student pilots got a rougher flying lesson than they bargained for Sunday when their light plane crashed during a landing attempt. The students walked away from the crash in a field off Ohio 261.

The pilot, Ray Vandever, 52, of Stow, escaped with a scratch on his chin. With Vandever, a flying instructor from Kent State University airport, were Charles Calvin, 18, and Connie Smith, 16, both of Martua. Kent police said the plane's engine failed and when Vandever tried to land, the plane was caught in a downdraft about 20 feet off the ground and flipped onto its back.

World's second deepest oil well was drilled to 24,002 feet in the Elk City field, Beckham County, Okla.
